Anti-Prohibition Meeting Has Greatly Encouraged Business Men's League.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, Petersburg, Va., May 7.—The Business Men's League was greatly encouraged at the result of the meeting held in the Academy of Music last night. It was declared to be the largest and most representative meeting ever held in Petersburg, and the audience was very enthusiastic. In full compliance with the charge cannot be brought that it was a "liquor man's" fight, or a "liquor man's" organization. The audience applauded to the echo every point made by the speakers, against outside interference in the affairs of the city by parties having no right to be in the city, and showed manifest resentment to such interference. Letters were read from the Mayor, the Board of Police Commissioners and the Chief of Police, declaring the city to be in most orderly condition, the laws pertaining to the liquor traffic rigidly enforced with no complaint lodged against liquor dealers of violations of law or disobedience to restrictions placed on the conduct of their business. For this and other reasons, it was urged by the speakers—all of them home men and men of large interests—that no action be taken for prohibition on the city.

Meanwhile business in going on actively at the Anti-Saloon League headquarters, and the lines are being strengthened for the local option contest, and organization is being perfected for the contest.

Directory Names.—The new City Directory gives the names of 245 Joneses, 174 Smiths, 100 Johnsons, 150 Browns and 125 Williamses. The directory indicates a population of 80,000 in the Cockade City.

It is stated that over 2,400 water meters are in use in Petersburg, and that even at the low rates charged for consumption the city finds its water plant very profitable.

The handsome rooms of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, on North York Street, were opened last night with interesting exercises. The introductory address was delivered by M. I. Levitt, and the address of welcome was delivered by the president, A. Feldman. The association, the purpose of the association, its future plans, etc., were set forth by A. R. Friede.

United Confederate Veterans.—Major-General R. H. Bolling, commanding the Virginia Division of the Confederate Veterans, yesterday issued two orders, which were sent out to the various camps of the division. The first order conveyed an invitation to the Confederate camps of Virginia to attend the ceremonies and exercises in connection with the unveiling of the statue of General Stephen D. Lee's statue on the afternoon of Friday, May 14, in the Vicksburg National Military Park. The statue will be presented by General Clement A. Evans, and accepted by General Frederick D. Grant. The unveiling ceremony, under the park commission, and special trains will be run from Memphis, where the Confederate reunion is to be held, to Vicksburg.

The second order conveys the information that all Confederate soldiers attending the reunion at Vicksburg will be accommodated with quarters and subsistence free of charge. Every effort will be put forth to give the "Old Boys" good sleeping quarters in public buildings. For veterans and visitors desiring quarters at their own expense ample accommodations will be provided in hotels, boarding houses and private families, without any raise in usual prices.

Railroad rates to the reunion will be 1 cent per mile each way. The Confederate Southern Memorial Association will hold its meeting at the same time as the reunion, in Memphis. This is the fifth time the people of Tennessee and the second time the people of Memphis have thrown open their doors to the survivors of the Confederacy.

Unveiling Notes.—A number of the merchants along Farnham Street have already handed some decorated bunting to the Traffic Festival on May 13.

The unveiling and dedication address at Fort Monroe will be delivered by Major Isaac B. Brown, of Corinth, Pa., chairman of the battlefield commission. The address at Fort Steadman will be delivered by M. A. Barker, of Bolling Spring, Pa. Both speakers are Union veterans.

Bishop Van de Vyver, of Richmond, will visit the Sacred Heart Church, in Prince George county, on Sunday afternoon, and will administer the sacra-

Views of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

Though consolidation was not directly acted upon at the meeting of the Manchester and Chesterfield societies last night, it was brought up in an unofficial way by James Bellwood, of Chesterfield, who made a strong speech in its favor. Judging from the way in which Mr. Bellwood was received, it is believed, consolidation is popular with the members of the association. Several times during the course of his remarks, he received liberal applause.

Mr. Bellwood took the floor following the reports of W. H. Owens, chairman of the consolidation committee, who simply stated the present status, and informed the association that the matter would be taken up by the Board of Aldermen at a meeting in the beginning of next month. Mr. Bellwood stated that some embarrassment in bringing the subject up as he was from the county, and really was not as vitally interested in the movement as the Manchester members.

He believed, however, that the time had arrived when some action should be taken, and the question was raised and carefully weighed by every voter in the city.

Bellwood Cites Advantages.—Mr. Bellwood then presented an illustration of what consolidation could bring about, citing the case of two Canadian cities that had a similar situation. He pointed out the advantages of consolidation, and gave statistics showing the enhancement of property values, the increase in the number of voters, and the increase in the number of representatives.

Mr. Bellwood stated that at the time, he was a native of and a property owner in the city, and that he had been a member of the Manchester society for many years. He stated that he was not going to run away to dodge taxes, and that he was aware of the fact that he was a citizen of the city.

"I threw away thousands of dollars simply to dodge taxes," he said. Mr. Bellwood then presented a picture of the city as it is at present. Short-sightedness, he said, was accountable for his mistake, and he hoped the people of Manchester would not be short-sighted in this instance.

Following Mr. Bellwood, Mr. Redford stated that he was a citizen of the city, and that he was not going to run away to dodge taxes, and that he was aware of the fact that he was a citizen of the city.

Discusses Laying of Corner-Stone.—While the subject of consolidation was being discussed, the laying of the corner-stone of the new post-office building, the report of the committee on the subject, and the matter was discussed at length. Contractor Barnes, who is building the new post-office building, was present, and the matter was discussed at length.

There was a little misunderstanding regarding the speakers for the day, but it was finally decided that in place of one, there would be two, and the names of John H. Ingram, of Richmond, and David L. Pulliam, of this city, were selected. The names of the speakers were announced, and the matter was discussed at length.

Invites Congressmen to Delegation.—Under the auspices of the Manchester and Chesterfield societies, it was voted to ask the Congressmen to recommend to the City Council the appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a monument to the soldiers of the Civil War.

The question was taken up by that body next Thursday night. The names of the speakers were announced, and the matter was discussed at length.

Resolution asking for the appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a monument to the soldiers of the Civil War. The resolution was adopted, and the matter was discussed at length.

Eleven Confirmed.—Meade Memorial Episcopal Church was held last night, when Right Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, D. D., bishop coadjutor of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, presided.

The church was assisted in the services by Rev. John Monroe, D. D., and Rev. M. C. Daugherty. The music was especially good.

Postponed Action.—Though it was thought that the Finance Committee would act on the increase in the Mayor's salary at its meeting last night, and the city officials were present, the committee decided to defer the matter until the next meeting.

Will Hold First Shot To-Day.—The Manchester and Chesterfield societies will hold their first shot to-day, at 2:30 o'clock. The shoot will be held on the club grounds at the extreme end of the city, and the weather is expected to be in excellent condition and some good marksman expect some good sport with the clay pigeons during the coming summer.

Large Duck at Oak Grove.—Squire Cheatham had a large number of the oak grove yesterday morning, most of whom left wiser, but poorer than when they came.

Remarkable Christmas Present.—Jones left his pigs run on the streets of Swanboro, and somebody complained. Robert was compelled to pay the cost of the pigs.

Among the curious Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making.

Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Bureau of Press Clippings Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper published in the city, and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this man.

The history ends just after election, and the 20,642 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 2,500 great sheets of Bristol paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,832.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during the time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Bureau, for the entire year, which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.

There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle, New York," will reach him with no delay.

in the case, and was instructed to keep the pigs in the confines of his own back yard.

Gus Newby was charged by Mary Wolfe with beating her out of a board bill amounting to $1.50. This will be heard the amount over to his liability.

George Fox and Willie Saunders, two young fellows, were charged with fighting in the street.

Richard White complained that his sister-in-law had stolen his little girl, and threatened to brain her with an axe. Squire Cheatham put her under security for six months.

The trial of John Winfree, charged with shooting Arthur Lewis, was postponed until next Friday. All the parties were colored.

As a result of the exhibition of art pictures held at the High School building some $120 was raised for the purchase of a piano for the High School building. The piano fund which was started last fall, has grown rapidly, and those in charge of the movement have been able to pay enough down to get the piano. It is now in the High School building. Already over half the money has been raised. The members of the School Board and the teachers are highly gratified at the interest shown by the Manchester people.

Can't Skate on a Street.—Judge William L. Clifton, sitting in the Corporation Court yesterday, refused to grant a writ of prohibition restraining the Mayor from imposing a fine on James Dennis, who had skated on the sidewalks. Young Dennis was arrested some weeks ago, and when taken before Mayor Maurice, was fined $10 for skating on the sidewalks. The Mayor had granted, would have kept the fine, but the Mayor had granted, would have kept the fine, but the Mayor had granted, would have kept the fine.

Series of Sermons.—Rev. J. Clarence Miles, pastor of Clifton Street Baptist Church, has planned a series of sermons on the subject of "The Meaning of the Cross."
